From the historic center

Once you are in the historic center of Venice, the island of San Servolo can be reached by “vaporetto” public transportation. The public “vaporetto” boats no. 20 (there are hourly boats running to and from the island) to San Servolo leave from San Marco “San Zaccaria” in front of the Londra Palace Hotel, Riva degli Schiavoni.

By Train

Venice has rail connections with every major city in Italy and the rest of Europe. The main train station, Stazione F.S. Venezia S. Lucia, is on the Grand Canal in the northwest corner of the city. Some through trains do not terminate at Santa Lucia, stopping only at the Venezia-Mestre Station on the mainland. All trains traveling to and from Santa Lucia stop at Mestre, so to get from Venezia-Mestre to Santa Lucia, or vice versa (a 10-minute trip), take the first available train, remembering there is a supplemento (extra charge) for traveling on Intercity and Eurocity trains, and that if you do not pay it before boarding, you are liable for a fine. You can also check the European train schedule in case you are arriving by train from Europe or the Italian train schedule if you are getting to Venice from another Italian city.

- From San Marco to San Servolo The public boat to San Servolo leaves from the Riva degli Schiavoni at San Marco. The stop is in front of the Londra Palace Hotel and you can take boats no. 20.
- From Piazzale Roma to San Servolo There are several choices from Piazzale Roma to San Servolo. You must take either the no. 1, no. 51, no. 41, no. 61 or no. 82 boat (not bus!), direction "Lido", and get off at the San Zaccaria boat stop. At San Zaccaria you must change to line no. 20. Both lines leave from in front of the Londra Palace Hotel.
